

SUBJECT COMBINATIONS

COURSE STRUCTURE AND CREDITS: B.A. (GENERAL)

There are eight courses in total, each worth six credits, labeled as CC-1, CC-2, CC-1A, CC-2A, CC-1B, CC-2B, CC-1C, CC-2C, CC-1D, CC-2D, CC-11, CC-12, CC-13, and CC-14. These courses are spread over six semesters, with CC-1A and CC-2A being offered in the first semester, CC-1B and CC-2B in the second semester, CC-1C and CC-2C in the third semester, CC-1D and CC-2D in the fourth semester, and CC-11, CC-12, CC-13, and CC-14 in the fifth and sixth semesters. In total, there are 48 credits available across all courses.

There are four language courses available, labeled as Language CC-1 and Language CC-2, each worth six credits. The courses are spread over four semesters, with Language CC-1 being offered in the first and third semesters (L1-1 and L1-2, respectively), and Language CC-2 being offered in the second and fourth semesters (L2-1 and L2-2, respectively). There are no language courses offered in the fifth and sixth semesters. In total, there are 24 credits available across all language courses.

There are four courses labeled as DSE-1 and DSE-2, each worth six credits. These courses are not offered in the first four semesters. DSE-1A and DSE-2A are offered in the fifth semester, while DSE-1B and DSE-2B are offered in the sixth semester. In total, there are 24 credits available across all DSE courses.

There are two courses labeled as GE1 and GE2, each worth six credits. These courses are not offered in the first four semesters. GE1 is offered in the fifth semester, while GE2 is offered in the sixth semester. In total, there are 12 credits available across all GE courses.

There are two courses available under the category of AECC, labeled as AECC1 and AECC2, each worth two credits. AECC1 is offered in the first semester and AECC2 is offered in the second semester. There are no AECC courses offered in the third, fourth, fifth, or sixth semesters. In total, there are six credits available across both AECC courses.

There are four courses available under the category of SEC, labeled as SEC-1, SEC-2, SEC-3, and SEC-4, each worth two credits. SEC-1 and SEC-2 are offered in the third and fourth semesters, respectively, while SEC-3 and SEC-4 are offered in the fifth and sixth semesters, respectively. There are no SEC courses offered in the first two semesters. In total, there are eight credits available across all SEC courses.

There are a total of 24 courses available across all six semesters, with four courses offered in each semester. The total number of credits available across all courses is unspecified.

The credit load varies across the six semesters. The first semester offers 22 credits, while the second to sixth semesters offer 20 credits each. There is no information provided regarding the total number of courses offered. In total, the credit load across all six semesters amounts to 122 credits.

The B.A. (General) subject combination includes CC-1 and CC-2, with DSE-I being the subject chosen for CC-1 and DSE-II being the subject chosen for CC-2. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are as mentioned. For SEC, four courses are taken, with two from each of the Core Courses CC1 and CC2. L1-1 & L1-2 are English language courses, while L2-1 & L2-2 are language courses in MIL-Bengali/French. The AECC courses include ENVS for AECC-1 and a choice between Communicative English/MIL-Bengali/French for AECC-2.

Subject Combination of B.A. (General)

For CC-1/DSE-1, the subject is Bengali and for CC-2/DSE-2, it is Political Science. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are History and Philosophy.

For CC-1/DSE-1, the subject is Bengali and for CC-2/DSE-2, it is Philosophy. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are History and Political Science.

For CC-1/DSE-1, the subject is History and for CC-2/DSE-2, it is Political Science. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are Sanskrit and Philosophy.

For CC-1/DSE-1, the subject is History and for CC-2/DSE-2, it is Philosophy. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are Sanskrit and Political Science.

For CC-1/DSE-1, the subject is Sanskrit and for CC-2/DSE-2, it is Political Science. The General Elective courses for GE1 and GE2 are History and Philosophy.

Note:

CC – Core Course, GE – Generic Elective, DSE – Discipline Specific Elective, AECC – Ability

Enhancement Compulsory Course, MIL – Modern Indian Language